Academic Resources

Center for Academic Enrichment (CAE)
The Center for Academic Enrichment fosters growth by giving students the opportunity to engage with one another and faculty in research and innovation programs, academic seminars, fellowships, campus-wide reading programs, discussion groups, living-learning communities, and other events in which they can share ideas, explore possibilities, and take initiative.

Clough Commons, Suite 205
(404) 385-8543
www.enrichment.gatech.edu

Resources Offered by CAE:

GT 1000/ 2000
GT 1000 is a seminar where first-year students make connections and develop interpersonal and academic skills critical to their successful transition to Tech. GT 2000 is a structurally similar course, but aimed at transfer students instead. Students can apply to be a Team Leader each spring semester and continue to be in the classroom and serve as mentors to the first-year students.
